While superior VPN client software's are still out there, and most of them are within reach of a premium fee, an average person could carry out the very same activity by just installing the free and very simple, but nonetheless useful, Strongfish VPN Pro 2014! You will not need to have any additional software installed with the free version of Strongfish VPN Pro 2014. You will simply be able to use the program to choose your country and enter your dial-up or cable modem details and then click one button. A VPN will then be established and you will be connected. While in this case, you can expect to use that connection to surf the web safely and securely via the various www.safeshopping.org shops and other websites. Moreover, the free version of the program boasts of security features that the more expensive, premium version does not offer. You will be able to configure the connection, including the connection mode (static or dynamic ip address), connection type (IKEv1, SSL VPN, Openvpn), the amount of bandwidth, the country information and the SSL server location. This information is used to calculate the money cost of your service. With premium Strongfish VPN Pro 2014, you will still need to use a separate server location option, but can also define the IP address (static or dynamic) that will be your address for the duration of the connection. This is again offered for free with the more basic, free version. However, this option is only offered in the premium version of the program. Now with FREE CUSTOMIZED DATA AUTOMATION.
