In theory, sound recording software can be a nightmare, with some promising software quickly failing to deliver on its claims. Sure, they might work well, but you are going to be stuck with too many versions and an on-screen toolbar that can seem more confusing than helpful. 4ddiG aims to be different. One of the main tenets of the application is that it looks as if it was designed by a graphic designer, not a programmer. The fonts, colours and graphics are all designed with people in mind. 4ddiG is a basic but intuitive sound recorder and editor. You can choose to record an entire playlist, or choose specific tracks from any folder on your PC. You can also tag the tracks before you record them, so you can search for specific song titles later on. You can then save the audio recordings to your PC, or share them over the Internet via email, FTP or Twitter. 4ddiG can be used on any PC and is a free download. 4ddiG is the best Sound Recorder and Sound Editor for Windows, so download it today and see

4DDiG is an award-winning document recovery software designed to ensure you have your files back after your PC crashes. The program allows you to recover lost documents even if you accidentally delete or format them. You can find those deleted files in "Recycle Bin" or "Trash" when your PC is running, or on the hard drive when your PC is off. It scans your hard drive and detects all lost files and allows you to recover each one. With 4DDiG, you can restore documents to your PC, including Microsoft Word, Excel, Power Point, PDF, image, Microsoft Access, and RTF, all with a few clicks. If you experience the above problem please contact me at www.pdfrecoverysoftware.com If this software solves your problem, please give it a "Five Star" rating. It will help other people and get more feedback and feed back. In case of system crash 4DDiG will run a scan. For the scan to be performed all the files must be accessible. Files in use such as documents, multimedia files,... will not be scanned. The scan is limited to the size of free space available on the hard drive. 4DDiG will detect and display all files that have been deleted from the hard drive or are in use. Click on the file name to display it. The file properties include the original file size and the file owner. If no owner is displayed 4DDiG will suggest one or more possible users. If the file is located in the recycle bin, the file name will also display the recycle bin number. If the file is located in the trash, the file name will display the trash number. The file recovery process is started by clicking on the file name. 4DDiG will then recover the file and store it on the hard drive. If multiple files are selected to be recovered, the files will be restored in the order they were found in the hard drive. You can specify if the recovered files should be renamed to a new name. If the original name is known, 4DDiG will automatically make the new name. When a file is recovered 4DDiG will also list all open applications which contain the file. For example, if a document is opened in Microsoft Word, 4DDiG will also list Word when the document is recovered. 4DDiG will not change the original file properties, but will only restore the original file size. 4DDiG is Gastric emptying and nutrient absorption in obesity: relation with nutritional status. Nutrient absorption in obesity is usually reduced, leading to maldigestion and malabsorption. Impaired gastric emptying is another factor which could explain such abnormalities. The aim of this study was to evaluate the role of gastric emptying and intestinal absorption in the pathogenesis of maldigestion and malabsorption in obesity. Ten obese women and 7 lean volunteers underwent gastric emptying tests (G.E.) using ^{13}C -octanoic acid, and intestinal absorption tests (intestinal absorption of ^{13}C -octanoic acid and sodium) at fasting state and after a meal of 500 kcal. 1) G.E. was delayed in obese subjects, with values of T50% and T75% (time required to empty 50% and 75% of the total G.E. time) increased significantly compared with those of the lean group (8.7 +/- 3.7 vs. 5.2 +/- 0.4 min and 22.7 +/- 3.8 vs. 13.6 +/- 1.3 min, respectively; p < 0.05).
